The Florence Nightingale Pledge

I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly, to pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully. I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous, and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug. I will do all in my power to maintain and elevate the standard of my profession, and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my calling. With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work, and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care.

CMH Nursing School Wins Accreditation

Cabarrus Memorial Hospital School of Nursing has become the fourth diploma hospital school of the 28 in North Carolina to win accreditation from the National League For Nursing.

Word of national accreditation came to the local school Monday.

This recognition climaxes many years of work aimed at making the Cabarrus School of Nursing one of highest quality.

The National League's accreditation program was launched in 1949 and, at that time, the program — faculty, curriculum, student personnel services, facilities, records, and reports.

This current accreditation is good for six years, at the end of which the school again will be visited by an NLN team for continued accreditation.

Mrs. Ashley said that standards of the NLN are more qualitative than quantitative; that the school is evaluated in the light of its purposes; and that the faculty remains free, within reasonable bounds, to develop a curriculum aimed at training good professional nurses.

That the school faculty, the hospital administration, and the students are overjoyed at the news of accreditation would be

"It's something we've been working hard for a long time," Mrs. Ashley said. "It's not just a good way to begin the new year. It's a once-in-a-lifetime experience."

The school director pointed out that accreditation will mean much to the gradnates of the school. It will make it easier for them to be accepted when they wish to continue their education; and it will make it easier for them to get positions in states where the Cabarrus school is not known.

"Students have been as interested as the faculty in achieving this accreditation," Mrs. Ashley said, adding that already she has written mem-
